Danielle Caspar
Editor, Cary Magazine

Dear Danielle,

I just happened to pick up your very nice magazine at my former bank. It is very well done and is certainly fitting for a progressive city like Cary. The slick cover and the title "BEST of Western Wake" caught my eye, and I just couldn't help taking a look inside. I read with interest the Maggy Awards to see just what was considered the "Best Of" in Western Wake County.

Actually, it seems that most, if not all of the Best Awards listed are actually located in the cities of Apex, Cary, Morrisville, and Holly Springs, not Western Wake County proper. I would suggest that there is one "Best Of" that you missed. That being, the "Best" little community in Western Wake County. That community is New Hill, a community that has a longer history than any of these cities. A community that the cities of Apex, Cary Holly Springs and Morrisville have chosen to be the "Best" place to put their Sewerage Treatment Plant. Not just in the general area of New Hill, mind you, but literally in the very heart of the community.

I couldn't help but note the numerous advertisements for the half million dollar houses, the exclusive golf courses, expensive cars, and the beautiful people attending the Cary Art Ball. Among them is Mayor Ernie McAlister, who has arrogantly spearheaded the dumping on his neighbor, New Hill. The beautiful and affluent of Cary are dumping on their poor neighbors.

I am sorry, but I will not be patronizing many of your "Best Of" establishments. You see as a resident of New Hill, I no longer do business in any of those cities. Note, I did say my former bank.
