Many people are voicing concerns about a new sewage treatment plant coming to New Hill.

The plant will serve Apex, Cary, Morrisville and Holly Springs.

Residents and government representatives discussed the issue at a town meeting Tuesday night.

Residents voice concerns about treatment plant.

Some people say the idea of a new plant was thrown at them unexpectedly.

New Hill resident Hal Lawrence said, "We didn't have any say-so. Everything was already speculated that they're going to put here, or A or B or C sites. And nobody at any site knew what was coming on. It was a surprise to most everybody here."

Town officials will hold another meeting June 14th.
